My name is Thomas Xavier Grasso the 3rd and for the past 2 years, I have been acquiring my degree in Graphic Design while also accumulating a vast knowledge of front-end & backend programming skills on my own accord. Now finished, I look forward to providing my skills to you and your company. My skillset ranges from design capabilities that have excellent quality and stunning creativity, to high proficiency in adobe and other design programs such as sketch. I also have a vast understanding of front-end and back-end software engineering languages that include the markdown language of html, stylesheet languages of css, postcss and scss, DOM languages of classic Javascript to the React Library including Redux, and server side languages of PHP and Python.
